

My Iceland a photo exhibit Saturday, April 6th

My Iceland is a collection of images by photographers in the small northern icelandic town of Ólafsfjörður. They are art students in the only school offering art photography as course of study in Iceland.

Ólafsfjörður is a small community in the northern fjords of Iceland surrounded by rugged mountains.

They are eager to show you an Iceland far from the tourist destinations, and close to their heart.

When: Saturday, April 6th

Where: Quixotic Coffee,
